One Tough Finish: Conversion Varnish

When choosing a piece of furniture or cabinetry, the type of finish that is applied as a top coat is not usually a consideration. But it should be, since a top coat can protect your furniture and extend its life. Our standard finish - an eco-friendly conversion varnish - is the most durable in the industry. This finish can be applied as a clear coating or perfectly matched to any paint color. Read more by clicking the italicized text and then selecting “Finishes”.

A simple style that recasts the iconic American farmhouse for today, Farmhouse Modern is taking off. New books and a magazine devoted to this cozy but contemporary style, along with a surge of completed homes showcase this now trending look.

New LED choices - from bulbs that glow a warm white to effective dimming switches - have increased the popularity of LEDs in many homes. One of our favorites? An under cabinet strip light that is mortised into the bottom of the cabinet (shown at right) and has a diffuser. The light looks sleek and contemporary and best of all the diffuser eliminates that pin point look common to LEDs.
